FROM: Malcolm J. Romano/In [^]ج

SUBJECT: Invention Disclosure: Can in Can Packaging for Telemetry Shielding
Docket No. A00E1220

Your invention disclosure entitled Can in Can Packaging for Telemetry Shielding was received on 10/27/00, and recorded by the Legal Department as Docket No. A00E1220. Please refer to this docket number in all future correspondence regarding this disclosure.

Now that your invention disclosure has been docketed, it will be reviewed by the Invention Review Board (IRB) in order to determine how best to protect it. As the inventor or co-inventor of this disclosure, you will be advised as to its disposition.

The validity of any patent that might be secured is highly dependent upon the accuracy and completeness of the information provided in the Invention Disclosure and the supporting documents. Therefore, it is imperative that the Legal Department has the latest information with respect to this disclosure. Any information which may subsequently be developed (for example, changes, improvements, alternative embodiments, or other important facts) which may influence the IRB'S decision to file a patent application should be promptly provided to the Legal Department.

Please contact me if you have any questions.
